my life
could change

When I was eleven my life was unsettled and I felt alone. I was drinking and going to parties with friends and felt lost, with no guidance or support.

There was a lot of pressure on my sister and I, which affected our relationship, and we fought all the time.

My sister started a relationship with God and I saw a change in her that I could hardly believe. I knew I wanted that truth that my sister had found, which was the promise of eternal life and guidance from the scriptures.

When I was 14, in 1999, I was baptised by full immersion and then received the gift of the Holy Spirit, speaking in tongues just like the scriptures say.

From that day my life changed and I found that the promises written in the Bible are true. I was able to pray for answers, for healing, and for my relationship with my sister.

My sister and I have forgiven each other, and our mum, which was only possible through the Lord.

My mum has had a very hard life, but she has seen our testimony and our forgiveness, and now she has come to know God.

I never thought I was going to be able to have a stable family, but God has blessed me with a supportive husband and four children.

Every day I thank God for choosing me and I can't praise Him enough.
